Mr. Levon Nersisyan

In response to your letter 2471 of 19.10.2016

Dear Mr. Nersisyan,

I'd like to inform you that according to the RA law "On making supplements and amendments to the RA Water Code" adopted on June 23, 2015, which has entered into force on January 1, 2016, the RA Public Services Regulatory Commission should define drinking water supply and drainage rules in a year. The draft of the new rules, which is in the development phase, is placed in section "News" of the official website of the commission (www.psrc.am). The next few days the amended version of the rules will be submitted for public hearings. We suggest you to take part in the discussion of the issues bothering you.
